Down the road after the first set of twins, the couple was blessed with another set. This time they were girls, whom they named Sarah Mukhwana and Stella Namono. They are now two years old.

Aunt Natondo discovered she was carrying twins after six months. However, she would not spend much since the girls would use most of the things for their twin brothers.

“The joy of welcoming two family members at once is exciting. Our house is full of joy. It is interesting to watch the children grow with different personalities”.

According to her, their children have strengthened their marriage for they have common goals. They have big plans because they have many children and ever since they had the twins, they have achieved a lot. As they are about to give up, they are compelled to work harder because they have to feed and pay their children’s school fees timely.
